

Denman International teams up with the Hair & Barber Council to support State Registration

As long-time supporters of State Registration Denman are offering a free gift for ALL new and current registered hairdressers who sign up to the Denman professional website.

It is important to Denman that only hair and barbering professionals are able to sign up to a newly launched trade account on the denmanbrush.com website and being State Registered is an easy way to confirm anyone signing up is a bone-fide and qualified and experienced professional.

As well as providing peace of mind to the customer, State Registration is a valuable tool for professional brands like Denman as it enables us to identify qualified and experienced hairdressers and barbers. This means that we can ensure they have exclusive access to a 20% trade discount off all our professional products.

Using a valid State Registration membership number to sign up for a trade account with Denman on the website, will entitle you to receive two items from the choice of the iconic Denman D3 brush, the black Skeleton Vent brush or a Jack Howard Precision Colouring Tools kit free of charge with your first order.

Denman has always believed in the importance of recognising the time and dedication it takes to qualify in hairdressing and barbering and are proud to offer additional benefits to those who like us see State Registration as the mark of a true hair professional.

This offer is only valid to one gift set per account holder and to those who are currently paid up registered members of the Hair and Barber Council.

Visit denmanbrush.com and click on 'UK Trade Customers' to set up your trade account using your State Registration membership number
